ACCESSORY ARTISTS TO HOST UNIQUE TRUNK SHOW AND SAMPLE SALE
Event Will Feature An Exclusive Selection of Distinctive Fine, Fashion and Vintage Jewelry

NEW YORK, Oct. 13, 2011 – Hayes Fine Art Storage and Logistics, celebrating more than 150 years of packing, storing and transporting fine art and antiques in Manhattan, announced that online boutique Accessory Artists will host a trunk show and sample sale at its facility located at 305 East 61st St. To be held on Oct. 25 from noon until 8 p.m., the event will showcase a carefully chosen selection of jewelry designed and created by established and up-and-coming artists.

“Accessory Artists is the leading online destination for unique, handcrafted fine, fashion, vintage and one-of-a-kind jewelry designed by independent, well-known and emerging artists,” said Accessory Artists' Founder Marcy Roth. “None of our selections are mass produced or reproductions. We only carry jewelry by designers whose works are inspirational examples of wearable art and are excited to host an exclusive event at Hayes.”

“Our Upper East Side location is ideal for Accessory Artists to host a special event that features jewelry from the fashion industry’s most exciting artists,” said Hayes General Manager Andrew Hamilton. “As the leader in storing fine art and other highly valuable collections, we are pleased that Marcy Roth has selected us to host her exclusive event.”

The artists featured by Accessory Artists include Adriana Carador, Alex Stein Designs, Ana Cavalheiro, Brooke Gregson Jewelry, Deepa Gurnani, Isharya, Joomi Lim, Kelacala Q, Oblik Atelier, Rodrigo Otazu and Sally Kay Jewelry. From fine to fashion jewelry, as well as vintage and unique bijoux, the collections available on Accessory Artists are selected based on strict standards in design, craftsmanship and quality materials.
